

Moving from Nav to Business Central

As Microsoft Dynamics NAV nears its end-of-life phase, with Mainstream Support ceasing for NAV 2018 in early 2023, the clock is ticking for Dynamics NAV (Navision) with all extended support ending by 2028. However, Dynamics 365 Business Central emerges as the natural evolution from Navision. It is important to recognise that Business Central builds upon the foundation laid by NAV, resulting in a transition that is more seamless and familiar than initially perceived. Let's explore how this transition isn't merely about updating software, but rather about exploring a multitude of benefits for your organisation.

The Benefits of Moving to Business Central:

Familiarity with Added Value

Business Central offers a variety of enhancements, including advanced mobile access, custom adaptability, seamless app integration, and improved reporting capabilities. This ensures that your organisation not only maintains familiarity but also embraces newfound efficiencies and capabilities.

Automatic Updates and Accessibility

A notable benefit of Business Central is its cloud-based architecture, enabling automatic updates twice a year. This ensures your organisation stays current with the latest features and security patches seamlessly. Moreover, its cloud-based nature allows access from any device, anywhere, eliminating the need for extra investments in hardware and maintenance agreements.

Integration and Data Management

Seamless integration with Microsoft tools such as Office 365, Azure, and other Dynamics 365 suite products amplifies productivity and collaboration. Moreover, Business Central boasts cleaner and better-organised data, enhancing search capabilities and streamlining operations.

Cost-Effective Scalability

Gone are the days of hefty annual enhancements and significant licensing fees. With Business Central, you pay only per user, per month, leading to more manageable and predictable costs. This scalability ensures that your organisation can adapt to evolving needs without breaking the bank.

In essence, the transition to Business Central isn't just about embracing new software, it's about embracing a new era of possibilities.

Ready to embrace enhanced productivity, accessibility, and scalability while future-proofing your operations in today's dynamic digital landscape?